

Greg Santoro-Fergusson

Started tennis purely by chance at school with the Barbados national tennis coach at the tender age of 14 years and 10 months.

Represented my country in junior and senior teams and toured the international tennis circuit.

Came to England to join the services and after 4 1/2 years went back to the love of my life tennis.

Decided to become a tennis coach earning qualifications with different organisations PTR level 5, LTA senior performance level 4, ITF Maestro Nazionale and RTP Master pro.

Tennis has given me the pleasure to work in many different countries such as Italy, United States, Barbados, Saint Vincent, United Kingdom and other countries.

Over the years I have learnt to teach the physically and mentally challenged, blind and deaf, wheelchair players, beginners, intermediate and performance players.

Most of my coaching is based around the fifth wheel the mental side, however there is also the physical side, the technical side and a tactical side.

Very much at my best when students are willingly learning the art and skills of tennis.

Looking forward to coaching you!!!
